DNP Imagingcomm America Corporation Celebrates 20 Years in Concord, North Carolina

CONCORD, North Carolina — In celebration of its 20th anniversary of incorporation, DNP Imagingcomm America Corporation (DNP IAM) recently held an employee event at its headquarters in Concord, North Carolina. The ceremony, held on September 10, 2015, celebrated the careers of 40 different 20-year employees and featured the ribbon cutting on a new building at the Concord facility as well as presentations by multiple executives from DNP IAM.

“Over the past 20 years, DNP IAM has impressively demonstrated industry leadership in no small part due to the tireless efforts and dedication of our employees and the leadership of our parent company,” said Katsukyuki Oshima, president of DNP IAM. “I am proud to continue the strong legacy of DNP and together with our employees continue to grow and actively shape the future of DNP IAM in the North American and Latin American markets.”

Established in 1995 as a subsidiary of the Japan-based Dai Nippon Printing Company, DNP IAM. now has over 475 employees—over 300 of which are located at the Concord facility. The 110K-square-foot facility serves as a manufacturing plant, sales office, and development lab for its dye-sublimation media operations. DNP IAM also recently finished construction on a second building at the Concord facility that will house manufacturing and warehousing, and was officially opened at the celebration event.

The event featured presentations from current company president Katsuyuki Oshima and Masato Koike, the first president of DNP IAM and current CEO of Global IAM Operations and chairman of IAM for DNP. Also speaking at the event was former president (2011-2014) and current general manager of the IAM Division for DNP, Kazuhiro Kawabata.

The company presented awards to Masato Koike for his long-standing and significant dedication and contributions to the business and to Doug Puddy, national accounts manager, for significant sales achievement.
