

RBA Photobooths DNP Photo Printers in Complete Photo Booth Packages

RBA (Rey Borja and Associates) Photobooths offers its customers complete portable photo booth solutions for every type of event. Borja and his team set RBA Photobooths apart from others in the industry by including custom road cases with every photo booth package. This ensures that as photographers travel to events, every product for the photo booth arrives safely.

Today, RBA Photobooths provides a variety of complete photo booth solutions to photographers all over the world. While photographers can customize their photo booth package based on their needs, each one comes with basic elements such as a camera, photo booth shell, strobe flash lights, and a DNP DS-RX1HS™ printer.

"DNP printers are extremely durable, which makes it easy for us to work with them and ship them without having to worry," says Allen Stinson, Sales Associate at RBA Photobooths. "We're often shipping internationally and never have a problem. I've been working with DNP printers for a while and find them extremely easy to work with. I can quickly change out media and I love that the printer can cut the media right there on the spot—saving me a lot of time."

Having been in the photo booth business for 15 years, and exclusively using DNP printers for five years, RBA Photobooths has designed a custom printer cover and tray to help the printer seamlessly blend in with the photo booth.

"DNP printers are extremely durable, which makes it easy for us to work with them and ship them without having to worry."

"A good portion of our clients are DJs or event planners, and so it's important to make our photo booths blend into the environment and aesthetic they've worked to create," says Stinson. "We designed the covers specifically for DNP DS-RX1HS printers and our customers love them."

"I've been working with DNP printers for a while and find them extremely easy to work with."

RBA Photobooths recently opened its first photo booth showroom where photographers, DJs and event planners are able to check out all the different offerings and test out the equipment to ensure they purchase the package that best fits their needs.