

“We recommend DNP printers because not only are they indestructible, but they quickly produce high-quality images that dry immediately that leave event guests blown away.”

La Moda Photo Booths, a photo booth manufacturing and design company created by professional photographers, guarantees an unmatched photo booth experience—offering not only booths that look and work great, but also booths that produce the highest-quality photos. La Moda caters to anyone interested in the business, from DJ companies to large name brands, to people starting off in the industry for the very first time, designing booths to fit any type of event including weddings, brand activations, corporate events, bar mitzvahs and more. The booths are built in the USA, sold worldwide, and have a sleek, modern design that can be customized to match any brand or aesthetic. The company also manufactures different types of photo booths, including enclosed, open, GIF, roaming and green screen photo booths.

For the highest quality output, La Moda recommends photo booth operators pair its booths with DNP Imagingcomm America Corporation (DNP IAM) printing technology to ensure the best quality photo print, and it even offers printer bundles with DNP printers including the DS-RX1HS and the DS620A.

“The image quality that we guarantee is what sets us apart from other photo booth companies,” said Joe Costa, Creative Director, La Moda Photo Booths. “A huge part of that relies on the quality of the photo printer. We recommend DNP printers because not only are they indestructible, but they quickly produce high-quality images that dry immediately that leave event guests blown away.”

The DNP DS-RX1HS offers a large print capacity, durable design and high-speed output which make it easy for photo booth operators to provide prints quickly without having to sacrifice on quality. The DNP DS620A offers a wide selection of image sizes and can produce smudge-free 4"x6" images in less than nine seconds and 5"x7" images in 15 seconds so photo booth operators can offer event guests a variety of print options in moments.

“This industry tends to be going more and more digital, and our iPad style booths are great for social media purposes, but I am always for the print,” said Costa. “The print is king – it’s what got me into this business. It is so special to take a print home with you and keep it somewhere that every time you look will remind you of the event and the memories you made.”

“The image quality that we guarantee is what sets us apart from other photo booth companies.”

For more information on DNP IAM, please visit dnpphoto.com/en-us/